“ My dear friend and sister since 1970 or 72 I can't remember charge to my head and not my heart. I told her every time we left each other it was I love you I love you more. I am so sad that I could call on her for anything. She was such constant friend and we could trust each other to listen and only comment if asked was There for each other. Kathryn can you show me Kathryn can you type this can you get some off the computer she know I would do any thing I could to assist her. And my dear friend I just didn't get the signs you know you just didn't want to worry anyone with was going the last conversation was my hair is growing back. I am truly lost at words on this thing you call secret. I am going to miss my friend with all of my heart/. I let her cry about anything and my next would be let pray about Faye turn it over to Jesus and leave it there.
