

Ronnie Lee Rhymes, Jr.

April 21, 1984 - February 26, 2020

Events

---

MAR Visitation 11:00AM - 04:00PM

13

---

Fouche's Hudson Funeral Home

3665 Telegraph Avenue, Oakland, CA, US, 94609

MAR Funeral 11:00AM

14

---

Fellowship Baptist Church

1213 Fred Jackson Way, Richmond, CA, US

Comments

---

“ Sentiments of Serenity Spray was purchased for the family of Ronnie Lee Rhymes, Jr..

March 13 at 02:06 PM

---

“ Ronnie, I will miss your witty sense of humor, your support and devotion to our family and your smile. Give your grandmother a hug from me!

Carol C - March 12 at 10:47 PM

---

“ The Crawford Family purchased the Strength & Solace Spray for the family of Ronnie Lee Rhymes, Jr..

The Crawford Family - March 12 at 10:41 PM

---

“ When thinking about a memory to post I realized I've known Ronnie literally my entire life, there are too many great memories to choose from. Instead I decided to share what I've learned while I had the opportunity of sharing this short time and space with him. Everyone knows that Ronnie was ALWAYS there for family and if you were blessed enough to have him as a friend he had your back the same way. One thing I have always admired about Ronnie is that no matter what, he was always unapologetically himself. He said what he felt and never comprised that for anyone. He did what made him happy no matter who liked it. This sudden tragedy has taught me, life is too short to live any other way.

I love you cousin.

Bacon!

Ramisha Van - March 09 at 10:46 PM

---

“ I’m really going to miss all his jokes and his crazy laugh, with those tight eyes lol my cousin really got me thinking I’m a ol G and my hubby is a triple ol G he told me to stop dying my hair blond, so he can see all the gray hair. praying for my family and his friends! Much love
The Washington family

keisha washington - March 06 at 05:04 PM

---

“ Knew Ron over 10yrs plus a tru friend and family became a uncle to my kids; So many great memories and time spent together. You'll be missed Ron forever and will be forever in our memories and heart

Courtney Carroll - March 02 at 09:23 AM

“ Ronnie my Great nephew, love him . He spent lots of time with me. I will miss him.

Barbara Crawford - March 06 at 02:33 PM

---

“ I met Ronnie in 2008 when I started dating one of his best friends. When I first met him, I never understood all his jokes and would get so upset until I learned to joke back. In 2010 we began to actually build a friendship. One time, I needed to get a bunch of stuff for my daughters birthday and my husband was out of town, Ronnie being a good friend offered me rides to get whatever I needed, he said I shouldn't be getting on the bus pregnant especially if he had nothing to do and could help. He was so happy because he bought the car and was driving around. He always tried to get me to try different foods, like calamari. He didn't tell me what it was until after and I was soooo bothered but didn't tell him I liked it. I slipped one time and said oh let's go back to that spot, I want more calamari and he laughed at me. For the past decade Ron has been an amazing friend to me, to my husband and an amazing uncle to my kids, they loved to call him uncle bacon because that's all he told them he wanted them to try because it's the best ever. He recently asked me to write him a letter and before he finished telling me why, without hesitation I told him I would. He called me 2 weeks before his passing to share the great outcome of the letters and I was so happy I had to post about it. Anyone that knew Ron knew him for being so family oriented, funny and anyone that met him just had to like him. He built bonds with my family, my friends and since sharing his passing, everyone has been devastated. We will miss him terribly, will miss our weekly chats where the name bacon pops up in my phone. We love you Ron.

Monica Carroll - March 02 at 02:23 AM

---

“ I met Ronnie in 2008 when I started dating one of his best friends. When I first met him, I never understood all his jokes and would get so upset until I learned to joke back. In 2010 we began to actually build a friendship. One time, I needed to get a bunch of stuff for my daughters birthday and my husband was out of town, Ronnie being a good friend offered me rides to get whatever I needed, he said I shouldn't be getting on the bus pregnant especially if he had nothing to do and could help. He was so happy because he bought the car and was driving around. He always tried to get me to try different foods, like calamari. He didn't tell me what it was until after and I was soooo bothered but didn't tell him I liked it. I slipped one time and said oh let's go back to that spot, I want more calamari and he laughed at me. For the past decade Ron has been an amazing friend to me, to my husband and an amazing uncle to my kids, they loved to call him uncle bacon because that's all he told them he wanted them to try because it's the best ever. He recently asked me to write him a letter and before he finished telling me why, without hesitation I told him I would. He called me 2 weeks before his passing to share the great outcome of the letters and I was so happy I had to post about it. Anyone that knew Ron knew him for being so family oriented, funny and anyone that met him just had to like him. He built bonds with my family, my friends and since sharing his passing, everyone has been devastated. We will miss him terribly, will miss our weekly chats where the name bacon pops up in my phone. We love you Ron.

Monica Carroll - March 02 at 02:20 AM

---

“ Pookie, has always been my little brother. My BFF/sister Jenaye McElroy. My memory of Ronnie (pookie) is when he was in a dipper with his finger in his mouth. I was in the 10th grade. Jenaye and I had to watch him on many occasions. He was always a great person and will be missed. Rest in peace little brother. You will be missed. Much love always.. Kimberly Hale.

Kimberly Hale - March 02 at 01:00 AM